MISTAKES GAME WARDEN FOR FLOCK OF DUCKS

(Special to The Herald-Republican.) Ogden, Dec. 16 .- Thomas Staker, deputy fish and game warden, received several shot in his face and chest at Huntsville formal this morning while shooting ducks. Es-som Jesperson, with whom Staker was shooting, mistook his direction from Sta-ker and fired at a flock of ducks as they rose from the river. The stray shots were nearly spent when they struck Mr. Sta-ker, but one struck just below the eye.

roads to Facilitate Handling Shipments.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.) Ogden, Dec. 16 .- Better transportaention of wool growers in Ogden. Spe- Wasatch county during 1910: dial steps will be taken to bring the matter before the Interstate Commerce commission in an attempt to insure speedier handling of mutton shipments.

It is said that a recent shipment of sheep from Idaho points to Kansas City went to Omaha, thence to Chicago and then back to Kansas City, causing a delay of two weeks and a loss of $12,000 to the shipper. Another instance of the delay in transportation is cited in the case of the shipment of a carload of sheep from Wanship to Sait Lake, a distance usually covered by freight shipments in less than twelve hours, but which required four days in this case, causing heavy damage to the shipper.

Gial steps will be taken to bring the matter before the Interstate Commerce Commission in an attempt to insure Sciles, Thomas M. Giles, Thoma age to the shipper.

coin avenue directly after the shooting and changed the Weber club uniform he was wearing for an ordinary suit of clothes. Then, starting for the depot to leave town, he came across another negro named George, who is employed as bartender at the Weber club. The police searched the house and found the fugitive under a bed. He was locked up in the city fail, and will be held pending the outcome of young Lyon's wound.

That the shooing, although it occurred in the course of a fight in which Kennedy was getting the worst of it/ was premeditated is the belief of the police. It was learned today that Kennedy borrowed the gun with which he shot Lyon from a bartender of a saloon on lower Twenty-fourth street. Fifteen minutes after the shooting he rushed again into the saloon, handed back the gun, saying that he had killed a man and asking the bartender to protect him. Before the latter could call the police Kennedy had fled again.

Young Lyon is still ingering between life and death with a fighting chance for life. That he was not instantly killed was miraculous. The bullet grazed both the jugular vein and the spinal column, badly shattering the throat.

Improvement on Claims.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.) (Special to The Herald-Republican.)
Richfield, Dec. 16.—The contract for the annual assessment work on the unpatented claims of the Gold Mountain Mining company's holdings has been let to Joseph Nelson, and work will commence Monday. This is in accordance with the agreement between Receiver Sevy and Alfred Carr during his recent visit to Salt Lake. It was to pay the expenses of this assessment work that the receiver proposed to sell one of the electric plants owned by the company. Mr. Carr agreed to make the monthly payments for this work instead of selling the plant. This electric plant is said to be the one which the Belknap Power company had in mind as the first unit of its big power plant for Sevier canyon. plant for Sevier canyon.
